Program Overview

Are you a home improvement contractor working without a license, or are you planning to start your own home improvement business?

If so, enroll in the Queens Economic Development Corporation's 3-session training course to learn the tools that will pave the way for business success.

Home Improvement Contractor Training (HICT) offers training and one-on-one consultation to help clients get licensed as a home improvement contractor. The class is held in Mandarin for immigrant Chinese home improvement workers who are looking to start their own business.

Course Description

Home Improvement Contractor Training is part of a pilot program designed to reach out to immigrant communities in Queens. It focuses on helping skilled immigrant workers overcome language barriers and other challenges unique to immigrants. By providing instruction in Mandarin and combining exam preparation with the practical steps of setting up a business, we hope to help dozens of people establish licensed, reputable business ventures in the Chinese community. Our course offers:

- Course instructed in Mandarin
- Professional instruction and free technical assistance
- Registering your business and full licensing
- Additional technical assistance support with business advisors

Course Content
